There will be no U.S. government funding of the settlements and no U.S. government veto of the Secretary General's recommendation. The Secretary of State will ensure that there are no further U.S. Government engagements with settlements, and that no U.S. law is infringed upon with regard to the Secretary General's recommendation. The Office of the Spokesperson for the Department of State will continue its mission to inform the public about issues of concern in the Middle East. We will provide more details in the days ahead. In the meantime, please contact: 3/24/13 Department of State Press Briefing Room Deborah Hyman Assistant Spokesperson For further questions please contact Matthew Barzun maffly@state.gov (202) 647-2163Q: How to protect against infinite-loop attacks for an LED circuit My recent question, on finding the correct resistance for a LED, may have led someone into thinking there is a simple way to attack the system by setting up an endless loop of the LED circuit. I've provided the circuit below for reference. I was wondering if it's really necessary to 570a42141b
